LIFE IS A PUZZLE...

...complex, intriguing, uncertain—but at all times interesting and unpredictably real. Life is a test, a challenge, where only the strong can win.

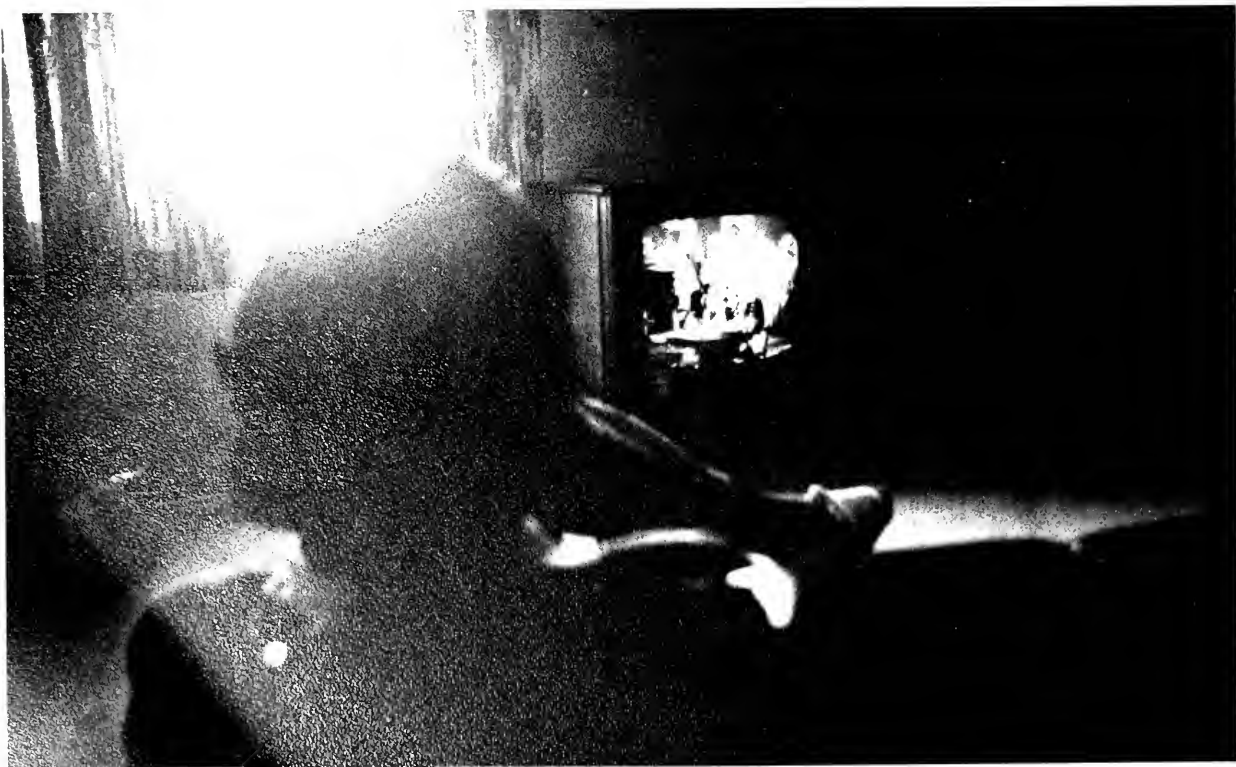

"It takes all the running you can do, to keep in the same place" (Alice in Wonderland). If you want to get anywhere, you have to run twice as hard, and sometimes you wonder if you're not losing ground.

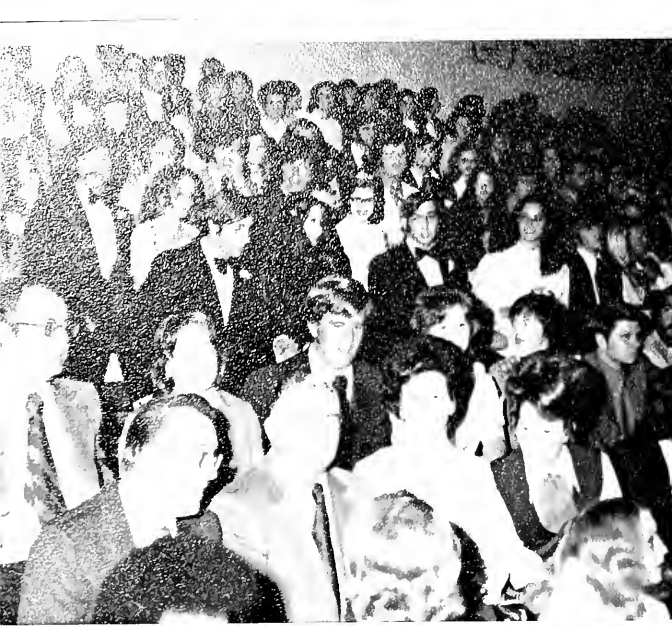

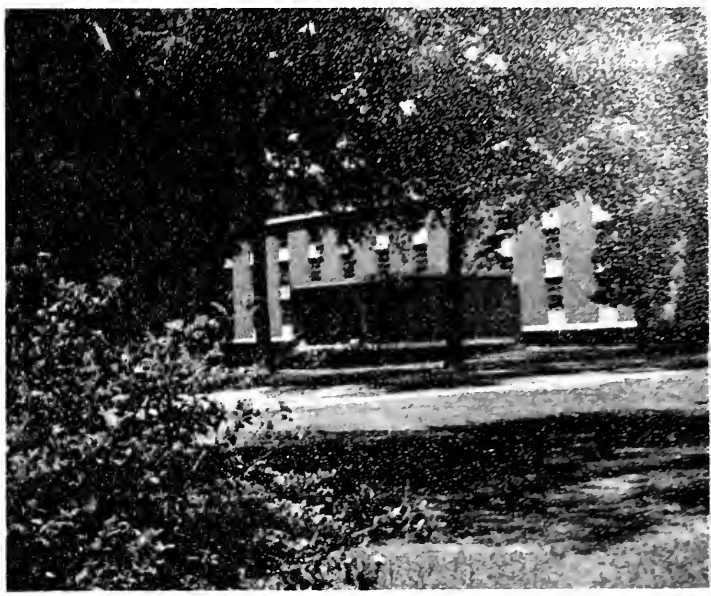

There are so many contradictions, so many opposites, that confusion just automatically exists. "Contrariwise," says Tweedledum in Alice in Wonderland, "if it was so, it might be; and if it were so, it would be; but as it isn't, it ain't. That's logic."

And just when it seems like you can reach out and grasp what you want, the world turns upside down and you're back on bottom looking up again. But just at the moment when things look worst, the sun comes out from behind a cloud and the horizon is bright once more.

As the King of Siam says in the Broadway musical

The King and I:

When I was a boy
World was better spot;
What was so was so,
What was not was not.

Now I am a man,
World hath changed a lot;
Somethings nearly so,
Others nearly not..."

Almost all of us have felt this way at one time or another. We remember the good times from the past, but forget the bad. Unfortunately the bad times cannot be so easily removed from the present, and that is why the past seems so inviting.

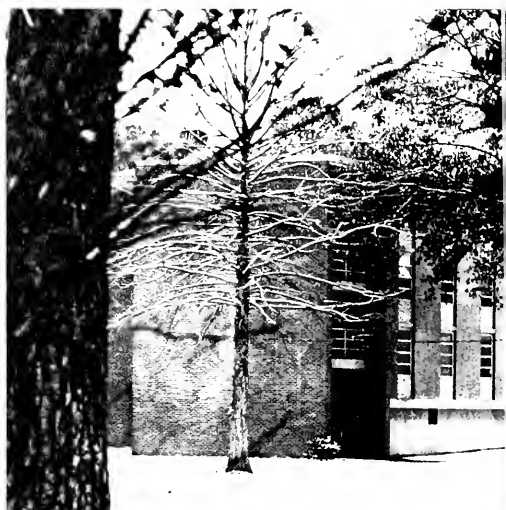

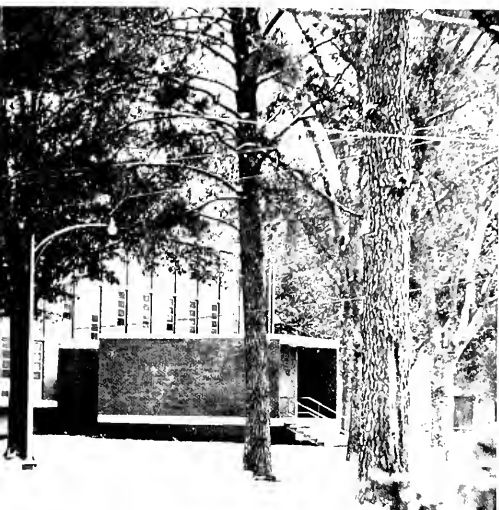

The King goes on:
"There are times I almost think I am sure
of what
I absolutely know;

Very often find confusion in conclusion
I concluded
long ago."

Certainly we, as members of a college community, understand his meaning. At times we have doubted what we 'absolutely' knew, and wondered if we, in reality, knew anything at all.

As both teachers and students, we have certain roles to perform, specific ideals we endeavor to attain. As Anna sings in

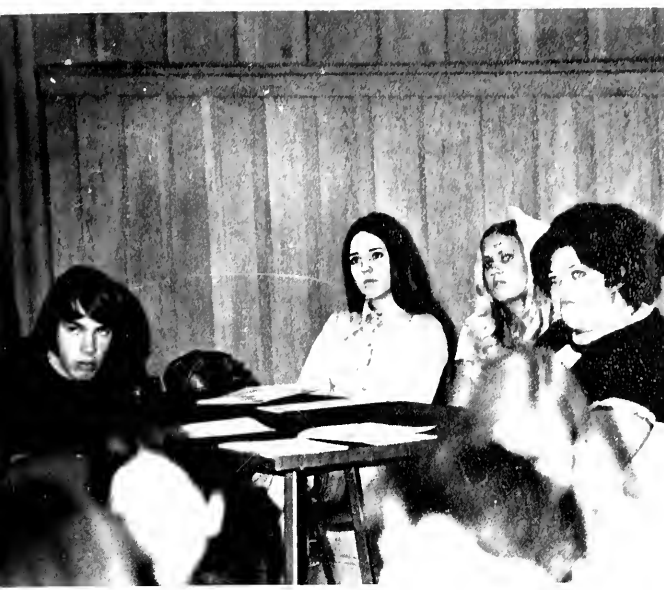

The King and I:

"It's a very ancient saying
But a true and honest thought,
That if you become a teacher
By your pupils you'll be taught."

Ironically, it is the King who is Anna's pupil, and he has as much trouble with his studies as we have with ours:
"In my head are many facts that as a student I have studied to secure,
In my head are many facts of which I wish I was more certain I was sure!"
That last statement is undeniably true, especially at exam time.

But the world cannot be restricted to our campus, nor can life be lived alone. We must reach out of ourselves and touch other people. Because "unless someday somebody trusts somebody, there'll be nothing left on earth excepting fishes."

How true that is. But we let it be like that? Are we afraid to commit ourselves to someone or something beyond ourselves? Don't we need something more than we can supply on our own? And isn't what we need called faith? Faith in ourselves, faith in each other, faith in God.

As Christ says:

"Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find;
knock, and it shall be opened unto you: for everyone that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened."

This then is the key to the puzzle: to have the faith and the courage to look further than ourselves for the true meaning of life.

"If by all in Heaven Jesus show the way,
Every day I try to live another day;
If by all in Heaven Jesus show the way,
Every day I do my best for one more day—

"But is a puzzlement!"

Dedication

Sir Thomas More was regarded by one of his contemporaries as "a man of an angel's wit and singular learning; I know not his fellow. For where is the man of that gentleness, lowliness, and affability? And as time requireth a man of marvellous mirth and pastimes; and sometimes of as sad gravity: a man for all seasons."

The one to whom the 1973 CRUSADER is dedicated is a man such as More—a man generous of heart who gives more of himself to others than he gives to himself. He is always willing to go the proverbial "extra mile", with no questions asked, no strings attached. The old expression—"he never meets a stranger"—is certainly true in his case. He embraces people from all walks of life, all parts of the world, and sincerely calls each one 'friend'. It is impossible to know him and not be affected by his vitality, his exuberance, his zest for life. He is one of those unique individuals about whom one can say in all honesty that to know him is to love him. Recognized nationally as a scholar and a leader, he is a modest man whose accomplishments would go unnoticed if left to his own discretion. He is many things to many people—teacher and friend, son and husband, citizen and neighbor. In recognition of his service and dedication to William Carey College, we honor him now as our "man for all seasons," Dr. E. Milton Wheeler.

MISS WCC— LINDA CASSADY

Each year, one young lady from the senior class is chosen by the student body to exemplify the spirit of Carey College. Without a doubt, this year's choice is all that that representative should be. She is known for her warm spirit and cheerful smile. Her dependability and concern for others make her a worthy recipient. Proudly, the students honor Miss Linda Cassady as Miss William Carey College.

MR. WCC— RICK BALL

Many young men at Carey College deserve the title "gentleman". But, each year, it is the task of the student body to select one senior to represent their high ideals. Looking to friendliness, genuine concern for his fellow students, leadership, and dependability as the basic attributes, the students this year honor Mr. Rick Ball as Mr. William Carey College.

Miss WCC—
essady, Rick Bell

LEADERSHIP— REID HOPPER

To be recognized as a leader is truly a great honor. The 1973 recipient of the Leadership Award is indeed deserving of that honor. Having played a major role in the student activities of Carey College throughout his college career, Reid rounded off his experiences by serving as president of the Student Government Association this year. His concern for people and his dedication to work, make Reid an excellent choice for the Leadership Award.

CITIZENSHIP— ANN HOLLINGSWORTH AND ROBERT LINDSEY

Participation in activities and genuine concern for the welfare of fellow students and the college are the principal attributes of those selected for the Citizenship Award. Without a doubt, the two students chosen to receive this honor this year exemplify the spirit of true citizenship—Ann Hollingsworth and Robert Lindsey.

SCHOLARSHIP— JO LAURIN MCDONALD

Oftentimes, when students arrive at college, they become so involved with extracurricular activities that they forget about studying. Unique is the student who continues, year after year, to excel academically, while at the same time participates in campus activities. The 1973 Scholarship Award goes to such a person. The recipient, maintaining a 3.99 average for four years of college work, is Jo Laurin McDonald.

WHO'S WHO

Having been nominated by a faculty committee, nineteen WCC students were selected to represent their school in the 1972-73 WHO'S WHO in American Colleges and Universities. This honor is bestowed upon students because they have displayed the desired qualities of leadership, dependability, and academic excellence. Giving credit where credit is due, Carey College is proud to recognize these students.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming '73 preceded by a week of student activities including a bonfire, "gook war", and banquet, concluded with a well-received concert by Ray Stevens. Friday, February 16, saw alumni returning to campus to share their occupational experiences with students in Student-Alumni Vocational Dialogues. The Alumni Banquet, at which Dr. Noonkester honored Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis as "Outstanding Alumni" of the Year, began major activities for Homecoming Day '73. Adding to the success of the day, the Carey Crusaders overpowered a surprised Columbus team. Summed up, the weekend exemplified that "Everything Is Beautiful" at Carey College.

CALL '73

CALL '73 (Christian Action as the Lord Leads) is the second annual Christian vocations conference at Carey. Headed by a board of student directors, CALL '73 offers high school and college students a chance to explore the opportunities available to them through Christian vocations. CALL '73, utilizing the theme—Crusading for Christian Careers—took place April 7-8, at which time the campus hosted two influential Christian gentlemen, Governor Bill Waller of Mississippi and Dr. Baker James Cauthen, President of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. Oswald explains the purpose of CALL '73.

BASKETBALL

The 1972-73 Basketball season marked a tremendous comeback season for a young Crusader team. After a dismal 3-18 record in '71-'72, the 'Saders, a relatively inexperienced squad, battled their opponents and ended up the year with a very respectable 14-12 slate.

Highpoints of the season included a first-place trophy in the Denominational tournament held at Belhaven and a very impressive 105-82 Homecoming victory over Columbus College.

Hello, Goodbye . . . Goodbye,
Hello
Partings with happy tears—
Joyful reunions in future years—
Hello, Goodbye . . . Goodbye,
Hello

Dr. J. Ralph Noonkester.

Myron, Mrs. Noonkester,
Lila, Dr. Noonkester.

William Carey College

Office of the President
Hattiesburg, Mississippi

39401

May, 1973

Dear Carey Crusader:

I am intrigued with the theme of your 1973 Book of Memories--
"Life is a Puzzle."

For twenty years I have been saying to Carey students, "Life with all of its mysteries takes on new meaning on our campus. You find yourself at William Carey College."

A new chapter of your life began as you entered Carey this year. What do you want most ... a degree? ... knowledge? ... change? ... freedom? ... new friends? ... direction? ... to learn about Jesus? I know you are finding all of these and more at Carey College.

You're finding Carey "contemporary" and "real." It's a responsive setting with spirit and freedom.

This year the Carey faculty and staff have been saying to you-- "Sharpen your mind. Focus your convictions. Make new friends. Explore new ideas. Discover who you are ... what you believe ... what you can do ... and where you are going."

In the Christian community we call Carey College, we believe life's puzzles take on new meanings as you experience Christ's love while finding yourself.

It has been great to have you in the Carey family in '73.

Your friend,

J. Ralph Noonkester

J. Ralph Noonkester

THE EDITOR'S PAGE

"I should see the garden far better...
If I could get to the top of that hill:
and here's a path that leads straight to it—
at least; no, it doesn't do that...
But I suppose it will at last.
But how curiously it twists!...
Well then, I'll try the other way." (Alice in Wonderland)

One can always get a better view of whatever it is he is seeking from a high vantage point rather than from ground level. And if we're really interested in finding it, then we can't take an easier way just because the first one looks too difficult. In relating the experiences we had on the 1973 CRUSADER, perhaps it would be best to give an illustration of what we encountered. Visualize, if you will, a large picture puzzle in a box with each piece having no relationship to another except for the area of confinement. Remove the parts from the container, spread them on a table and search diligently for keys to putting them together. In doing this, one must relate colors, shapes, and parts, and painstakingly bring order out of chaos. This is how it was for us this year. Starting from scratch, with nothing to go on but our imagination, we put the yearbook together piece by piece until the puzzle was complete. We had to travel the curiously twisting path; we could not take the easier way.

The same holds true for you, too. When you set your goals, you must have the courage and the willingness to follow through, no matter how rough the going gets.

Yes, life is a puzzle. But there is a solution, if you only have the guts to find it.
